agricultural yields have increased steadily in the last half century particularly since the green revolution at the same time inflation adjusted agricultural commodity prices have been trending downward as increases in supply outpace the growth of demand recent severe weather events biofuel mandates and a switch toward a more meat heavy diet in emerging economies have nevertheless boosted commodity prices whether this is a temporary jump or the beginning of a longer term trend is an open question agricultural productivity and producer behavior examines the factors contributing to the remarkably steady increase in global yields and assesses whether yield growth can continue this research also considers whether agricultural productivity growth has been and will be associated with significant environmental externalities among the topics studied are genetically modified crops changing climatic factors farm production responses to government regulations including crop insurance transport subsidies and electricity subsidies for groundwater extraction and the role of specific farm practices such as crop diversification disease management and water saving methods this research provides new evidence that technological as well as policy choices influence agricultural productivity this book introduces an approach to active system control design and development to improve the properties of our technological systems it extends concepts of control and data accumulation by explaining how the system model should be organized to improve the properties of the system under consideration the authors define these properties as reliability performance and energy efficiency and self adaption they describe how they bridge the gap between data accumulation and analysis in terms of interpolation with the real physical models when data used for interpretation of the system conditions the authors introduce a principle of active system control and safety an approach that explains what a model of a system should have making computer systems more efficient a crucial new concern in application domains such as safety critical embedded and low power autonomous systems like transport healthcare and other dynamic systems with moving substances and elements on a theoretical level this book further extends the concept of fault tolerance introducing a system level of design for improving overall efficiency on a practical level it illustrates how active system approach might help our systems be self evolving bookdown authoring books and technical documents with r markdown presents a much easier way to write books and technical publications than traditional tools such as latex and word the bookdown package inherits the simplicity of syntax and flexibility for data analysis from r markdown and extends r markdown for technical writing so that you can make better use of document elements such as figures tables equations theorems citations and references similar to latex you can number and cross reference these elements with bookdown your document can even include live examples so readers can interact with them while reading the book the book can be rendered to multiple output formats including latex pdf html epub and word thus making it easy to put your documents online the style and theme of these output formats can be customized we used books and r primarily for examples in this book but bookdown is not only for books or r most features introduced in this book also apply to other types of publications journal papers reports dissertations course handouts study notes and even novels you do not have to use r either other choices of computing languages include python c c sql bash stan javascript and so on although r is best supported you can also leave out computing for example to write a fiction this book itself is an example of publishing with bookdown and r markdown and its source is fully available on github cyber security is one of the most critical problems faced by enterprises government organizations education institutes small and medium scale businesses and medical institutions today creating a cyber security posture through proper cyber security architecture deployment of cyber defense tools and building a security operation center are critical for all such organizations given the preponderance of cyber threats however cyber defense tools are expensive and many small and medium scale business houses cannot procure these tools within their budgets even those business houses that manage to procure them cannot use them effectively because of the lack of human resources and the knowledge of the standard enterprise security architecture in 2020 the c3i center at the indian institute of technology kanpur developed a professional certification course where it professionals from various organizations go through rigorous six month long training in cyber defense during their training groups within the cohort collaborate on team projects to develop cybersecurity solutions for problems such as malware analysis threat intelligence collection endpoint detection and protection network intrusion detection developing security incidents event management systems etc all these projects leverage open source tools and code from various sources and hence can be also constructed by others if the recipe to construct such tools is known it is therefore beneficial if we put these recipes out in the form of book chapters such that small and medium scale businesses can create these tools based on open source components easily following the content of the chapters in 2021 we published the first volume of this series based on the projects done by cohort 1 of the course this volume second in the series has new recipes and tool development expertise based on the projects done by cohort 3 of this training program this volume consists of nine chapters that describe experience and know how of projects in malware analysis web application security intrusion detection system and honeypot in sufficient detail so they can be recreated by anyone looking to develop home grown solutions to defend themselves from cyber attacks
